Release teacher

I joined the staff at Cornerstone Christian School in 2016, having spent the previous 4 years at Cornerstone Christian Preschool. I feel blessed to have started my teaching career at the preschool and, as my early years degree gives me the flexibility to teach in either sector, the transition to school has come with minimal fuss.

What I love about my role is that in the earlier part of the year I work part-time as a release and relief teacher which often sees me teaching children I have previously taught either at preschool or in A2+. It is such a thrill seeing how far they have come and watch them maturing both in their academic prowess as well as in their faith of God. Then, as the year progresses, I open the overflow new entrant classroom, usually around term 3 of each year, and the corner classroom between A2 and A3 becomes A2+!

I am passionate about transition to school and how we can best cater for the new children joining our school and I look forward each year to giving my students the best start at Cornerstone!
